EU Business School (EU) is proud to announce that the online MBA program has been ranked number one worldwide in CEO Magazine's 2022 Global MBA Rankings for the eighth consecutive year. In addition, EU's on-campus MBA is once again listed in the top tier of European programs and the DBA program is highlighted in the 2022 Global DBA Listing, which showcases the market's premier DBA-providers. These results are a testament to the outstanding business education that EU Business School provides on its campuses in Barcelona, Geneva, Montreux, Munich as well as online.

In this year's rankings, CEO Magazine assessed 347 programs from 180 schools in 27 countries across North America, Europe, Australia, New Zealand and the BRICS. The different programs were rigorously assessed according to fact-based criteria including international diversity, class size, accreditation, international exposure, faculty to student ratio and quality of faculty. The latter accounted for more than a third of the total attributable data points (34.95%).

EU's faculty comprises working professionals and academics who, thanks to their wide-ranging professional experience and academic expertise, offer practical, real-world business experience to complement classroom theory. They play a key role in our commitment to hands-on, experiential learning, which, along with our multicultural community of 100+ nationalities, personalized teaching, small class sizes and innovative portfolio of programs, give our students the business skills to excel.

Mr. Carl Craen, vice president and managing director of EU Business School, expressed his pride at the latest rankings, stating: "EU Business School's reputation for excellence is reaffirmed by CEO Magazine's 2022 Global MBA Rankings and I am delighted that our innovative programs continue to lead their rankings for the eighth year running."
