EU BUSINESS SCHOOL'S MBA PROGRAMS RANKED TOP BY CEO MAGAZINE FOR THE FOURTH CONSECUTIVE YEAR

- EU Business School's Online MBA ranked global number one and its MBA and Executive MBA programs Tier One in the prestigious CEO Magazine's Global MBA Rankings for the fourth consecutive year.
- These impressive rankings, which evaluated over 270 MBA programs worldwide, are testament to EU's commitment to providing its students with an innovative, state-of-the-art business education.

EU Business School (EU) is extremely proud to announce that its MBA programs have been recognized for outstanding excellence and ranked top in CEO Magazine's Global MBA Rankings for the fourth consecutive year. In this edition, the rankings evaluated 270 programs from business schools across North America, Europe, Australia, New Zealand and BRICS.

EU Business School's Online MBA, named global number one in CEO Magazine's 2015, 2016 and 2017 rankings, has retained its top position as global number one for 2018. Ranked above some of the world's most prestigious educational institutions, this outstanding ranking reinforces EU's position as a top international business school, recognizing its consistent dedication to delivering world-class education on a global scale. Crafted by experts, the school's Online MBA program is pushing boundaries in distance education.

EU's on-campus MBA was ranked in the top tier both in Europe and globally for the fourth year running. The school's Executive MBA program, in addition to being ranked in the European and global top tier, was ranked eighth out of all schools participating worldwide.

The school achieved these impressive ranking thanks to its experiential approach to learning, world-class faculty and global business network which equips students with the knowledge, soft skills and mental strength to succeed in today's rapidly changing business world.

Since their launch in 2012, CEO Magazine's Global MBA Rankings have become a leading global reference tool for MBA candidates worldwide. In 2018, this independent institution evaluated business schools from across the world, rating them according to a number of objective factors including quality of faculty, international diversity, class size, accreditation, faculty-to-student ratio, and professional development, among others.

"At EU Business School, we work hard to provide our students with a world-class learning experience and we are delighted that CEO Magazine's 2018 rankings reflect our passion for excellence in education," said Carl Craen, Vice-President and Managing Director of EU Business School. "As we celebrate EU Business School's 45th anniversary, we will continue to look for ways to enhance our business education to ensure our students receive a state-of-the-art education which will launch them on their successful career path."
