

EU Business School skydives to celebrate 40k followers

DESCRIPTION

EU Business School (EU) celebrated reaching 40,000 Instagram followers with a thrilling student skydiving session! The school said it wanted to do something unforgettable to mark the milestone, so took students to Catalonia's Empuriabrava. The provider said, "Is there a better way to cultivate the daring and enthusiasm needed to navigate risks in today's entrepreneurial world? There couldn't be a more perfect thrill to capture the EU Business School experience!" Managing Director and Vice President, Carl Craen, commented, "EU Business School takes on all challenges. The growth of our online presence is thanks to the combined efforts of our committed students, staff and followers. The wonderful figures prove that working together is the core of success. I am proud of this result, which demonstrates our dedication to cultivating success at every level. We look forward to celebrating our future achievements with many more exciting activities."
